

June 2, 2009 Ashtar on the Road teleconference

ASHTAR – Well good evening everyone. It is so delightful to be here at this family gathering again. Have you popped the cork and started the celebrations yet? The joy, the bubbling up and all of the celebrations. It's done, you know, from where we have this perspective, which is a bit different when you are in the dumpies, discouraged, can't go another day. We see you and send you love to uplift you into the higher Beingness, because we want to tell you that all that you have long awaited and we know that some of you have been waiting for many years.

And perhaps you're not feeling as young and spry when you first heard about all of these wondrous events to come. You've been gaining wisdom. You've been walking through fires and come through the other side and not burned at all; stronger indeed for the trials and tribulations as you like to call them. That's as apt a description as any for all of the sacrifices that you've made.

You've been sacrificial bodies a time or two before in order to understand what that feels like. You have the understanding and the wisdom within your being of every possible lifetime and more. You also have the memories of your neighbors, friends, enemies and so on. You see it's a very big thing what you have done. That you have come to this place and that you have held the light even when you weren't feeling like such a light being. Go beyond it and see yourself as we see you. Because you don't need to carry these memories any more. If you haven't done some clearings, do it. If you're thinking your bank account runs out, that's the kind of thinking you need to forget in a manner of speaking. Remove it from your entire Beingness by substituting a much higher energy. You can do that thru the dendrite clearings. You all have some capabilities. You can all do everything. Some of you have discovered that you are capable and you are utilizing your abilities.

Chaos going on, you're right. Guest speaker tonight will give you more of a detailed look. He will call his presentation, the State of the Reunion. Everything so fabulous and looking so wonderful. Do you know, whether you had a vision or just plain sitting around, do you know how many of you came to the same conclusion about the air bus, the mysterious disappearance? How many of you knew right away? We thought that would be fun to know and more importantly validation and confirmation. If you came up with the same answer, the consciousness knew. There was an observation done by that part of you you're not always feeling in touch with. If you are wondering the true story, most of you were able to access it. Do you know what an accomplishment that is? Can you see yourself a year ago being part of the complete number who got it?

I have done many wondrous discussions on this marvelous instrument called the telephone. Somewhat primitive but nevertheless, it is a marvelous instrument on 3D. We congratulate all of you for being with us tonight.

So, there is another form of communication that requires no little boxes, big boxes or wires and that's called telepathy. You accessed your telepathic capabilities and you tuned in and you got the information. So you tuned in and you got it, you see. And there are a few as there are many on planet earth who still have some doubts about their capabilities to enter into telepathic communication. Perhaps we can help a bit. Let's clarify. It just means that you don't need anything except wonderful you. The parts involved are of course your brain, your heart, your emotional and your mental body, your spiritual connection. It can go from you to your higher self to the other self. If you want to see it that way, that's a good accurate picture. Here's you and here's the other one.

Let me share something with you. You're actually it with the one we all are. Every thought you put out is felt in some manner; is received and sometimes acknowledged with the one we all are. We are all connected by the energy of love. When you put out a happy joyful bubbly thought, you're benefiting the world. We hope that does a little to dispel doubts about your capabilities.

You are awesome and you are infinite in all that you can do. We barely touched on one tiny aspect on the influence that you have. Just reach out. Send a message from you. See it going out to so many that you can't begin to count. Imagine all of these wondrous thought forms, they call them; really they are just energy. They look like waves if you want to give them a look see. They're all light. You can change the dark spot into light energy. That's what you do with q-tipping anyway. All you are doing is giving that particular spot a whiteness, a lightness, you're using the transmutational capabilities that you have. You are totally able to use the violet ray of transformation any time you choose. You have ascended masters, angels and all kinds of loving beings who are right there with you.

Missed a few sentences

I, Ashtar, shall beam all of you. I have multi-tasking capabilities. Lighten up. Be joyful. And hugs if you wish or receive hugs from

When you reach out and allow yourself to be touched, you are connecting with your family. You're connecting with people who live in other places whom you've never met, at least you don't think you have met them. In this lifetime they may seem to be strangers. The reality is we're all one. So it is that you reach out and you are answered or connected with or touched in some manner by the one we all are. You can do this on an individual basis. Perhaps your sister lives miles across the country and you miss them. Send them love; it works.

The atmosphere you live in is moving into the higher vibrational status and is, therefore, more conducive to these telepathic connections. You are finding it easier and easier. Sometimes it's a random thought. You may be driving down the highway and another car is coming the opposite direction. For some reason or other, you feel like smiling at the occupants of that car. You know you've never met them. You could be that they were beaming you, saying "Hello stranger, I send you greetings on the highway." Could be this soul family connection? We're all one; we're all family which leads me to say to you, "Get ready." This is the time, as never before, from everyone to look into everyone else and say 'hello family. Hello brother, hello sister. We are all one." Can you imagine? It's not going to be imaginary for much longer. It won't be done by telepathic or whatever. You'll turn on your television set and there it is; the long awaited moment and you're not going to be waiting so very much longer. "no dates." However, you're not going to be saying it much longer.

We told you before, it's already done. Nothing will stop it no matter what those black op guys try to do. They tell so many lies that they are turning light because you're shining the light. They can't hide. They are doing what they are doing because they are programmed and wanting to stay within their boxes of comfort because it's all they know. Those who are stepping outside of their boxes, and there are many, will be quite pleased. I choose to come to the light. I have relinquished my dark hat. I now wear the hat of the light. Imagine. And you may already have some glimmers of whom those former dark hats are and that's fine. Keep it going. The more you beam them with the light of truth. Excalibur is ready to use all of the time. The more you send them, the more you're going to appeal to their heart spaces. Yes, they do have hearts. We don't need to go into qualifications. Human body clones. Holograms or whatever. The important thing is that they are willing to have their programming shut off and they can be reprogrammed and we're talking about the program of love. It's not dictatorial.

Be in appreciation of all in your surroundings, because beloved ones, it's time to get out your teaching tools if you haven't already. The time is short; very short. You have asked and you have accepted the missions of standing tall in your truth and sharing it. In most cases your audience has been somewhat limited. Perhaps you can do some exercises to assist those who have been in disbelief. Their consciousness is not allowing it to sink in. These ones aren't in touch with it. They would rather deny it because they are set in their ways; they like their boxes. They are comfortable with them and they are feeling somewhat challenged right now. They are starting to get these messages leaking thru. They are looking at some of the news programs that are honest and truthful and are starting to understand that big changes are coming.

There is no reason for them to go and get some opinion from those with letters after their names if you are having some difficult. If no cause can be found in 3D, look to the energies of love. There are plenty of teachers teaching that. You are all asked to share in that either directly passing them on. Pay it forward or simply saying "I know someone who can help you. Call this person or call that person." There are many ways you can be helpful to make it thru these days of change which have started.

It's just like "first contact". First contact multiple exponential of times and then there's official first contact which will take place on the official announcement. If you think people are going to have a bit of trouble, just imagine the troubles when somebody says, "Yes Virginia, there are star seeds among us. They are our family and we welcome them. Some may not appear to be as familiar as human form but we embrace them all. They come in love. They come to share. They come to help us."

There are many stories in the his story of the so called "new world". Explorer said there's all this great land out there. Let's claim it. We'll send some people to live there. People who were there first had various responses to the comings of the people who had not been there to live.

Missed about 5 minutes

Get your teaching tools ready. Be ready to share your love and all of your wisdom and all of your practical tips for feeling welcome in the entire dimensions of existence. There are many things that are going to happen during these most powerful months. And so it is for you to feel absolutely secure within yourself to clear up any issues of doubt that you have; get your q-tips ready and be in as peaceful a state as you can possibly be in. do your meditation; that can help. Or whatever it is that you feel comfortable, connected and in touch with and most of all be ready; turn on that television. You'll all know about a minute before the announcement.

Be tuned in and then do your service. It is most joyful and it's why you're here. You're here to serve yourself and all of humanity and all of Mother Gaia's kingdom and the entire universe beyond. The spotlight is on you. Be confident and be comfortable.

I, Ashtar, recommend that you take my word for it and that you joyfully proceed upon your ascension path. So we have provided a glimpse. We have one next who will be perhaps a bit more specific. He shall be entitling his discussion "The State of the Reunion." I thank you for coming to listen to renew and restore your enthusiasm for using all of your capabilities to the fullest and making all of those who still have their eyes closed welcome this brand new ascended planet earth and the rise, the ascension path is about to get joyful for the world. Pop the corks and start the celebration. And so it is.

ST. GERMAIN - Greetings, it is I, St. Germain. I have to tell you that I am excited and I popped two corks listening to Ashtar. I volunteered to come and be in discussion with you about what I am calling "The State of the Reunion." We are discussing the greater whole that is what you call the countries, as well as the individuals because my particular focus, for the moment, is as is appropriate in the country of the United States with extension particularly of Canada and Mexico as beloved neighbors. And there are other countries in the world whose citizens prize and value sovereignty, freedom, liberty, freedom of speech, freedom to determine their own lives and make their own ways without an unending barrage of government rule and regulations which are designed specifically to benefit the few at the expense of the many.

Speaking of expense, let us assure you that the organization that you know, some know it as the "Infernal Revenue Service", we are indeed connected with you all, but is more commonly known as the IRS. This organization is preparing to close its doors for all purposes except to provide refunds. Now there is another department which has nothing to do with the collection of your money or shall we say the confiscation of it. That is the department which will be absorbed, and we are proposing under the Department of Peace, a Department of Humanitarianism or humanitarian projects.

Those who receive funds will need to keep track of the funds. They'll need to be certain their bank accounts are in order; that all is in good order as far as their allocations and what they budget their funds for. They may be able to receive some assistance from this new department which will be loved based, compassionate and in existence to serve the people. There will be no more involuntary collections of hard earned funds because nobody is going to have to work hard to earn their funds. The dollars are ready. The printing has taken place. They are being kept in a safe and secure location. There have been attempts by those called the dark hats to confiscate those funds and they really had their mind set on the gold and the silver and the platinum and the other precious metals which give life, credibility and meaning in exact amounts so as to be totally fair worldwide to these dollars. All is in readiness behind the scenes to handle the change over which will be monumental but nevertheless is entirely doable. It is done.

So rest assured, each and every one of you has an account established in a bank of higher dimensional existence. The banks may have familiar names and the buildings may be familiar, but they are being q-tipped as we speak. And so we thought you would appreciate that news. And so we can also tell you that the government agencies, just as you are all known. All within those agencies are known. It is very clear what hat each individual is wearing. There is q-tipping going on there, too, as well as a preparation because this is a reunion. It is a reunion of each individual of each one within as well as a reunion of all that we are. It is multi-dimensional. It has to be because you exist in higher dimensions as well as you are straddling between three and higher, even now as we gather together.

You are much more than 3D. We are asking you to reach out and help those who want to be in 3D and help them to reunite with the all that they are. This is the reunion that is most overdue for the people of each country and each region to come together and recognize and celebrate their oneness. Yes, there's diversity and that is to be celebrated. There are stories, customs to be shared as people get to know each other on a conscious level. There's this reunion of faith in each other of a sense of excitement as people come together. (had to stop at this point). Sananda spoke briefly in conclusion.

Many thanks to Jan Chapman for these real-time notes.
